Axis Attacks Beaten Off by British Forces

Rommel's Troops Fail To Advance West of Alexandria

New Zealand Tank and Infantry Forces Score New Successes

LONDON, Saturday, July 18 (AP)—Reuters quoted a Rome dispatch today as saying British forces attacking in the central sector of the Alamein battle field penetrated "a vast space" in Axis defenses. Reuters gave its source as Stefani, the official Italian news agency.

The dispatch said the British "succeeded in penetrating a vast space, separating our defenses and spreading out in the rear of our defenses."

CAIRO, EGYPT, July 17 (AP)—Axis counter-attacks on the desert front some eighty miles west of Alexandria have been beaten off with heavy losses to the forces of Marshal Erwin Rommel, it was reported tonight.

The first of the two counter-strokes, delivered within the last twenty-four hours, came last night against the central sector, where fighting has been extremely heavy.

The second was delivered this morning as the Axis infantry attacked Indian troops holding a ridge to the south of the central battle ground.

Meanwhile, heavy and medium bombers, supporting the British and troops with aerial thrusts against the Axis lines, attacked Tobruk and raided shipping in that Mediterranean harbor.

New Zealanders in Action

New Zealand tank and infantry troops scored a number of successes against enemy tanks in the central sector of the El Alamein seventy-five to eighty miles west of Alexandria today, but the outcome of the indecisive melee which now involves the main steel might of the British and Germans remained in doubt tonight.

The whole hot forty-mile Egyptian desert front was in violent combat with the British under Sir Claude Auchinleck, making advances in the south near the virtually impenetrable salt marshes of the Qattara depression.

In the north, the comparatively fresh Australians reoccupied their original positions on the lower ridge of the Hill of Jesus, ten miles west of the whistling stop of El Alamein after a dingy dog fight that lasted all day.

On the whole tense desert battle hinged the fate of all Egypt and the middle east.

This Is It, Chaps", Ace British Flier Says As He Crashes

By ERNEST AGNEW

LONDON, July 17. (AP)—Bidding his comrades farewell with a calm "This is it, chaps," Irish Paddy Finucane, R.A.F. ace who had thirty-three German planes to his credit, plunged to his death in the English channel last Tuesday in the wreckage of his crippled Spitfire, the air ministry announced tonight.

A veteran of more than fifty cross-channel raids and the youngest wing commander in the R.A.F., Finucane, 21, was leading his squadron during the largest mass

Senate Passes Florida Canal Bill To Cut Shortage in Oil

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bitterly-disputed bill authorizing construction of a Florida barge canal and other waterway and pipeline facilities which proponents said would help relieve the east coast oil shortage.

The $33,000,000 authorization bill passed by voice vote after an amendment to strip it of all but a $3,000,000 provision for pipelines was rejected thirty-one to thirty.

An anxious moment for advocates of the barge canal was provided when they realized as the clerk began a recapitulation of the roll call that the count was thirty to twenty against them. Before it was completed, however, Senator Clark (D-Idaho) arrived to cast the tie vote.

In this view he was pointed by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who

GREETS SHIPWRECKED UNCLE

Eugenia Saurage has a fond greeting for her uncle, Lieut. Eugene Conway, USN.R., upon his return to a gulf port after his armed merchantman had been torpedoed 300 miles off Trinidad. Lieut. Conway is a former Louisiana Secretary of State, having succeeded his father, E. A. Conway, Sr., after the latter's death in 1940. He spent five days in an open boat before being rescued.

Cases Completed Against 4 of 8 Nazi Saboteurs

Evidence against Four Remaining Defendants Still to Come

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Cases against four of the eight Nazi saboteurs on trial for their lives before a military commission were completed today, the ninth day of the trial.

Still to be presented is the evidence against the four remaining defendants, and such defense as the eight may offer.

Major General Frank R. McCoy, president of the commission, announced the prosecution had rested its case against the four defendants who landed on Long Island, N. Y., from a submarine. The others, also brought to the coast on U-boats, landed in Florida.

The time required to present the prosecution's evidence against only four of the defendants made it clear that the trial would last much longer than had been generally anticipated.

General McCoy issued the following statement at the conclusion of this afternoon's session:

"The commission reconvened after recess at 1:30 p. m. This morning's session was devoted to completing the reading—which started Wednesday—of a long statement.

"This afternoon's session was devoted to the examination and cross-examination of seven additional FBI witnesses. As an incident to the direct examination several additional documents were read into the record. In addition, photographs of the articles which were found on the Florida beach were presented to the commission. The photographs were of explosives, abrasives, clothing, etc.

"The commission adjourned for the day at 5:30 p. m. The trial will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow."

The four against whom the prosecution has completed its case are George Jean Dasch, Ernest Peper Burger, Heinrich Harr Heinck, and Richard Quirin. The other defendants are Edward John Kerling, Herbert Haupt, Hermann Neubauer, and Werner Thiel.

Telephone to Police

It was 4 a. m. when Patrolman Harold J. Rossi received the telephone call from Fresno. "I murdered a girl in San Leandro," the man said. Rossi said he identified himself as Gireth.

Fresno officers arrested the jeweler merchant in the lobby of his hotel. He was calm.

Recently his wife, Anna, brought suit for divorce accusing Gireth of cruel and inhuman treatment. He was "not conventional in his desires," she asserted, told her she didn't know how to love, and squandered money on other women. They married in 1929, and have two young sons.

Miss Hammer had several suitcases packed with clothing and personal effects. Among these were a number of amorous letters addressed to her and bearing Gireth's name. One, written June 7 of this year, said "My dearest angel: I

Senate approval sent the measure back to the House for action on minor amendments.

The amendment to reject the barge canal and the deepening and extension of the gulf inland waterway was offered by Chairman Bailey (D-N.C.) of the Senate Commerce Committee who charged that the length of time required for completion of the waterway facilities would not permit movement over them of a single gallon of gasoline for at least three years.

In this view he was pointed by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who

Americans Raid City of Hankow, Docks, Ships Hit

Attackers Lose One Fighter Plane, but Pilot Is Saved

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, July 17 (AP) — A fourth and "very satisfactory" air raid on Hankow, big Japanese base on the Yangtze, was announced today by General Stillwell's headquarters, while a ground the Chinese reported they were inflicting casualties on the Japanese in fighting in four provinces.

At the same time the Chinese disclosed officially that war supplies now were arriving over a newly-opened 2,800-mile road from Russia.

A communiqué said the waterfront at Hankow, midway between Shanghai and Chungking, was attacked yesterday by "Allied bombers" escorted by fighter planes. Previous raids were made July 1, 2 and 6.

It was announced today that in the July 2 raid a dozen 220-pound bombs struck the Hankow docks and warehouses and there were several near misses on ships.

Further details also were supplied concerning a raid on the Japanese airdrome at Nanchang July 3. Bombers led by Major William E. Baye and escorted by fighters led by Squadron Leader John R. Howard, damaged runways and two hangars, destroyed three Japanese planes which were trying to take off, several others that were parked, and shot one out of the air.

The Americans lost one fighter plane, but the pilot was saved.

The Chinese central news agency said an American air attack on Whitecloud airdrome on the outskirts of Canton on July 4, "achieved a demoralizing effect on the enemy," one immediate result being a fifty per cent drop in the value of the Japanese military yen.

Afied, Chinese dispatches said Chinese forces striking eastward in Kiangsi province had recaptured Sankiangkow, twenty-five miles south of Nanchang and laid siege to the walled city of Linchuan fifty-five miles southeast of Nanchang.

The Chinese army reported it inflicted "considerable casualties" on the Japanese in fighting near Wenchow, Japanese-occupied port in Chekiang province.

Japanese Set Up

with the approach of an eighty-ship armada toward Midway Island, where America's greatest naval victory of the war was won.

Flitting the enemy's Aleutians operations into the general Pacific picture, the navy said in the communiqué that the Midway and Aleutians drives constituted a two-prong thrust at this country's westernmost possessions, of which capture of Midway was "the primary objective."

Japanese Plan Wrecked

This indicated likelihood that in defeating the Jap fleet at Midway, the United States had wrecked the major strategic plan by which the enemy hoped to profit from his Aleutians venture—possibly with a follow-up attack on Alaska. Itself once he had the mid-Pacific situation well in hand.

While the navy review did not substantially alter the sum of previously disclosed information about the Aleutians, it added numerous specific facts, particularly as to damage. These included:

On June 4, the day after they first attacked Dutch Harbor and the adjoining army post, Fort Mears, the Japanese made simultaneous aircraft assaults on Dutch Harbor-Fort Mears and on Fort Glenn on Unalaska Island, seventy miles west of Dutch Harbor. The latter was a strafing attack.

Since June 4 there have been no further attacks on Aleutian defenses.

44 Americans Killed

Total American casualties in the bombings were forty-four army and navy men killed and forty-nine wounded. One civilian employee was killed. Also, a number of American aircraft have been lost, and at Dutch Harbor, the old station ship Northwestern, which had been beached and used for barracks, was destroyed by fire after being bombed.

At Fort Glenn, no damage was done by the strafing, but at Dutch Harbor-Fort Mears, a few barracks, warehouses and fuel oil tanks were set afire, an empty hangar was hit and a navy mail plane was strafed as it was about to take off.

In addition to ship losses, the enemy suffered at least seven aircraft destroyed—including two in the initial attack on Dutch Harbor, one during a subsequent reconnaissance flight, and two at Fort Glenn.

Enemy Carriers Attacked

Moreover, the enemy carriers which launched the attacking planes June 3-4 were located and attacked by army and navy planes with bombs and torpedoes, but results in this as in several more recent air actions against Jap ships were not observed, presumably due to the prevalence of fog.

When the initial attack on Dutch Harbor came, the navy reported, there were in the harbor three American destroyers, an army transport, a mine sweeper and a coast guard cutter, in addition to the beached Northwestern. These ships went into action and anti-aircraft crews both afloat and ashore opened fire five minutes before the first bomb fell. None of the ships was hit.

CONGRESSMAN BOUNCES SYNTHETIC RUBBER BALL

A member of the house committee on mines and mining bounces a ball made of synthetic rubber by William F. Farish and Dr. P. K. Prolif, oil executives. Other representatives watch the demonstration. The ball is made of Buna-S, one of the two principal types of synthetic rubber. Farish said sufficient rubber can be produced in 1942 and 1943 to meet the essential needs of the armed forces and war workers.

Anti-Submarine Defenses Prove Aid in Caribbean

Fewer Ships Being Sunk, Gen. Frank Andrews Reports

By CHANDLER DIEHL

UNITED STATES HEADQUARTERS, Canal Zone, July 17 (AP) — Lieut.-Gen. Frank Andrews, commander of Caribbean defenses, told a press conference today that new anti-submarine defense measures apparently were proving very effective in the Caribbean zone.

Although he would not discuss the nature of the measures, there have been official statements that convoys now had been instituted in the Caribbean as well as along the Atlantic coast.

These measures undoubtedly were among the topics discussed by General Andrews and Rear Admiral Clifford Van Hook when they were in Washington. Both have just returned to Panama.

Observers also recalled the recent arrest in British Honduras and the canal zone of twenty persons accused of tipping off Axis raiders to Allied shipping movements and supplying fuel for U-boats.

The first full thrust of Axis submarines in the western Caribbean resulted in the sinking of thirteen United Nations ships in the period of June 3-14.

By contrast there have been no navy releases on sinkings in this area in many days, and the most visible proof of improved shipping conditions is seen on restaurant menus and the shelves of Canal Zone commissaries, or government stores.

Many of these shelves which had become bare in recent weeks have been restocked with potatoes, cheese, and fresh vegetables.

John M. Kennedy Again Candidate

BALTIMORE, July 17 (AP) — John M. Kennedy, building contractor and real estate developer, who was a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1938 until he withdrew in favor of Baltimore's Mayor Howard W. Jackson, announced today that he would again seek the Democratic nomination.

Kennedy said his campaign platform would include: pledge for reduction of taxes; abolishment of numerous jobs "saddled on the taxpayers"; economy in state expenditure, and the setting up of a good business administration.

At Fort Glenn was said to be holding the eastern rise of the ridge with Rommel on the western hump.

The British communiqué summed up the action thus:

Too Many People Seeing Parachutes

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP) — The enemy's eastern defense command said tonight the old Yankee weakness for exaggeration was causing needless labor for military and civilian personnel in the northeast who were kept busy all day searching for non-existent parachutists.

Lieut. Col. E. J. Glavin, public relations officer for the command, said more than twenty false rumors of parachute landings were received today while the army investigated a report that six parachutes were seen descending last night a few miles from President Roosevelt's Hyde Park estate.

Colonel Glavin said that in the wake of last night's report "there have been many false reports circulating which tend to cause alarm and fear in the localities where they originated."

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Although the Nazi steam-roller still is crunching its bloody way southeastward in the Don basin, its slowing pace warrants a shift of attention from Russia to Egypt where a decisive crisis seems ever more imminent.

The fate of Alexandria is again at stake in a roaring new British-Axis tank battle somewhere in the narrow, sun-scorched desert corridor between the Mediterranean and the Quattara depression.

There seems little doubt that the German desert-warfare genius, General Rommel, is making desperate efforts to break through the stalemate forced upon him by the British stand at Alamein June 30, efforts that if he fails must expose him to dangers of a disastrous defeat.

Encouraging News

The mere fact that General Auchinleck, British supreme commander in Egypt, has not only accepted but invited pitched battle southwest of Alamein is encouraging. It indicates he has made the most of his shorter and easier communication lines to bring up men and machines.

British tank and equipment losses in the lost battle of Libya and recently overcome to permit offensive preliminaries. Meager accounts of the present action from Cairo in

Now He's Home And She's Away

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — When Private James McNulty's wife took a vacation from New York City and came here to visit her husband stationed with the Army Air Forces technical training command, he could speak to her only by phone for he was confined to quarters awaiting shipment elsewhere. But he promised to wire when he reached his destination.

Two days later Mrs. McNulty heard from her husband. He had been sent to a technical school in New York City.

She'll Harvest A Honey Crop

SAYRE, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Troc Bryan no longer worries about sugar rationing.

A swarm of bees, gnawing a small hole in the screen of her kitchen door, swarmed through and found a resting place in a nook.

Shoo them out? Not Mrs. Bryan. She says she plans to let them stay and harvest the honey crop.

TODAY'S VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH

By Dean Halliday
SAFEGUARDING SWISS CHARD
IN VICTORY GARDENS

Swiss chard, as a rule, is disease-and-insect-free. At times it succumbs to leaf spot but this can be controlled by quickly cutting off any affected leaves and destroying them. One may grow Swiss chard for years without any trouble from blister beetles, then all of a sudden they appear in great numbers. These beetles are ravenous and completely skeletonize the leaves as feed together in swarms.

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, the blister beetle is long and slender, about five-eighths to three-quarters of an inch. They are black, gray or striped and attack many other garden vegetables such as potatoes, tomatoes, eggplant, sweet potato, bean, pea, soybean, cowpea, melon, pumpkin, onion, spinach, beet, carrot, peppers, radish, cabbage and corn.

Blister beetles are best controlled by knocking the moff the plants into a pan of kerosene. Spraying the beetles with pyrethrum as soon as they appear is also suggested, but strike the insect with the spray, as it kills by paralyzing them. Repeat as new beetles appear.

Sugar was first manufactured in Australia in 1824.

Air Freighter To Carry
Load of 250,000 Lbs.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 17 (AP) — Engineering and designing has been completed for an air freighter that will carry load of 250,000 pounds 10,000 miles at a speed of 350 miles per hour, according to Col. Joseph L. Stromme.

The commander of the Portland army air base made the disclosure but added no details in a farewell address at a retail trade bureau dinner. Stromme will leave soon for duty in Washington.

"We may continue to expect delays until we devise a means for speedy delivery of our arms to our soldiers where they need them," he said. "Freight airplanes are the answer."

He added that the era of the air freighters was almost here.

The loss of Manchukuo in 1931-32 reduced China's railroad mileage by forty percent to a total of 6,000 miles.

Winston Weaver Will Wed

Phyllis Livengood Today

Ceremony Will Be Performed at Home of Bride's Parents

Miss Phyllis Burnett Livengood, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Livengood, Pinto, will become the bride of Winston Odell Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Weaver, Harrisonburg, Va., this evening.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 7 p.m. before an improvised altar erected on the lawn of the Livengood home, with the Rev. C. M. Helmick, pastor of the Pinto Mennonite church, officiating. Palms and garden flowers will be used in the decorations of both the altar and the home.

Miss Colleen Barton, will be maid of honor Miss Virginia Dayton and Miss Velma Yoder, the bridesmaids. Doris Livengood and Eva Mae Barton the junior bridesmaids. Shirley Collins and Carol Jean Johnson, the flowergirls. Doris Livengood is a sister of the bride-elect, the other attendants are her cousins.

Harold Ours, Harrisonburg, Va., will serve as Mr. Weaver's best man. Carlton Helmick, Claude Yoder, Wesley Collins and Robert Johnson, uncles of the bride-elect will be the ushers.

Mrs. Yoder Will Sing

Mrs. Claude Yoder, cousin of the bride-elect, will sing "O Promise Me," and "Because," with Mrs. William Loar at the piano, who will also play the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in a gown of marquessette and Chantille lace, made with a sweet-heart neckline, full puffed sleeves, fitted midriff and bouffante skirt.

Her finger-tip length veil of French illusion will be held by a coronet of Chantille lace, and she will wear matching lace mitts. She will carry a white Bible, the gift of the bride-groom, with a marker of orchids, and a shower of lily of the valley.

The maid of honor will wear a gown of aqua marquessette, fashioned on the long torso lines, with insets of lace edging the high neckline and dipping over the shoulders to a point on the short sleeves; the same point effect is carried out in the lace inserts in the full skirt.

She will wear a Juliette cap of aqua bobbinette with matching shoulder length veil and will carry a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bridesmaids gowns are of pink marquessette over pink satin, their Juliette caps and veils will be of matching pink and they will carry old fashioned bouquets of various pastel colors and wear matching flower arrangements in their hair.

The little flower girls will wear

Man Questioned at Deep Creek Lake Revealed as Research Chemist

Add to the perils of vacationing—a "spy suspect."

Several days ago both the Maryland and West Virginia State Police received reports that a man who spoke with a pronounced accent took various photographs and carried a book written in German, was traveling around in the Deep Creek Lake area and at several West Virginia points adjacent.

Was "Impressive Looking"

After two days of searching state police finally caught up with the suspected "spy" at a Deep Creek Lake inn. The man was about 30 years of age, wore glasses and had a mustache and was "very impressive looking," according to Trooper George Browning of the Maryland State Police.

He was surprised at being accosted by law enforcement officers but took the whole affair "very nicely," police said. He told them he was a research chemist for the Abbott Laboratories, of Philadelphia, Pa., and was vacationing in the mountains.

Edited Magazine

Besides being a chemist the man exhibited credentials which proved his identity not only as a respected professional man but in addition he formerly was editor of a magazine dealing with chemical research.

Other officers who aided in the investigation were Corp. Thomas Currie, Maryland State Police, and Troopers Davis, Karickhoff and Kelley, of the West Virginia State Police.

Moreover, he added, civilian defense and OPA officials were working on a similar plan to insure adequate supplies of gasoline to carry on all civilian defense activities.

The ration boards then will act on the applications in order to insure the observers enough gasoline to continue their activities.

Col. Barrett said he understood the plan would be applied not only in Maryland but throughout the rationed area.

Moreover, he added, civilian defense and OPA officials were working on a similar plan to insure adequate supplies of gasoline to carry on all civilian defense activities.

Event Will Be in Conjunction with B. and O. Veterans Picnic

William R. E. King, manager, and Fred Licot, chief life guard at the Constitution park swimming pool announced that a bathing beauty contest, sponsored by the City Park Board, will be held at the pool, July 29 in conjunction with the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans and Auxiliary picnic.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded in War Bonds and stamps, valued at $50.

Girls interested in entering the contest are requested to contact Mr. Licot at the park pool.

Outstanding swimmers and divers of the Cumberland Aquatic Club will participate in special events as an added feature.

This year will be the first time the Veterans picnic has been held in Cumberland. Previously it has been held in Connellsburg, Pa., McKeepsport, Pa., and Terra Alta, W. Va.

The mayor and city council, and Baltimore and Ohio officials will be among the guests. A program of speeches and special entertainment under the chairmanship of H. W. Bloss and Mrs. Arthur Souders is being planned. Meals will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock by the ladies of the auxiliary.

The Cumberland Miniature Camera club will hold a meeting and photo contest in conjunction with the Veterans picnic also. Entries may be of any size and are subject to the regular club rules. The public and members of the Veterans and Auxiliary will be asked to judge the winning prints.

A buffet dinner of roast turkey will be served members of Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at the club.

John F. Zimmerman was honored guest at a wiener roast Tuesday evening at Constitution park. He will leave for Camp Lee, Va., Monday.

Circle No. 3, of the Women's Society of Christian Service, Park Place church, will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Moody, Homewood addition, at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

Plans were also made for a swimming party and corn roast to be held at 6 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Wotring, Christie road.

The club made the plans at the picnic last evening at Constitution park, which was attended by the following members: Mrs. Grace Frost, Mrs. Helen Treat, Mrs. Mildred Cozad, Mrs. Beatrice Rudiger, Mrs. Ann Drennen, Mrs. Genevieve Wotring, Mrs. Ada Twiss, Mrs. Ann Kirby, Mrs. Ethel Lovenstein, Mrs. Elsie Lehr, Mrs. Emma Rudiger, Mrs. Erma Moore, Mrs. Mabel Cline, Mrs. Mary Shuck, Mrs. Genevieve Wagner, Mrs. Ruth Smith and Mrs. Eva Smith.

Pythian Sisters

The Pythian Sisters No. 8, will have a temple meeting at 8 o'clock Monday evening at the Junior Order hall.

The staff will be in charge of the social hour which will follow the meeting.

How To Protect Yourself

"Air Raid Safety Manual—What You Must Know To Protect Yourself and Your Home," by Burr Watkins Leyson, is a timely and elementary handbook of air raid information.

Other worthwhile additions to the library include:

"The Art of Conversation and How To Apply Its Technique," by Milton Wright; "Texas the Marvellous," the story of our biggest state, by Nevin O. Winter; "I Like Diving—A Professional's Story," by Tom Eade; "General Grant's Last Stand," by Horace Green; "A Handbook on Lettering," by J. Albert Cavanaugh; "Memories of a Southern Woman of Letters," the reminiscences of Grace King, of New Orleans, famous both as a novelist and as a writer of travel and historical works.

"The Untold Story of Exploration," by Lowell Thomas, brings together a glowing pageant of high adventure in many lands.

"Song of the North," the story of Edward Grieg, the great Norwegian composer, written by Claire Lee Purdy and illustrated by Susanne Suba is a splendid volume with a complete bibliography. This book will interest music lovers from high school age on.

Cain and Abel: A Contrast

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

7-18

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 19, is Genesis 4, the Golden Text being Hebrews 11:4, "By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous.")

ADAM AND EVE, banished from the Garden of Eden, had a son whom they called Cain. The name means acquisition or possession. Can you imagine Eve's joy when she saw her firstborn, even though he was born in a agony?

Another son was born to them, whom they called Abel. Abel means vanity, which is an odd name for a child. When these children grew up Cain was a tiller of the soil, but Abel chose to be a shepherd, tending his sheep on the hillsides around his home.

When harvest time came around, Cain, the elder, brought an offering of his products to the altar of the Lord. Abel did likewise, sacrificing the "firstling of the flock and of the fat thereof."

For some reason Cain's offering was not acceptable to the Lord. Possibly the offering was acceptable but Cain's sacrificial attitude was wrong. At any rate, the author of Exodus says, "unto Cain and to his offering He (the Lord) had not respect." Abel's offering was received with favor, however, and that made Cain very angry.

Lord Sees Cain's Anger
The Lord saw at once that Cain was furious, and said to him, "Why art thou wrath? and why is thy countenance fallen? If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door. And unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him."

Meanting that if he allowed his passion to get the best of him he would sin, but that he should seek to rule his anger and so overcome the sin.

Cain talked to Abel when they were in the field, and he did not rule his anger and he killed Abel. "And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel, thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I not brother's keeper?"

"And to Seth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name Enos: then began men to call upon the name of the Lord." Cain's descendants seem not to have known God, with all their skill, but the descendants of Seth were godly men.

Cain and Abel: A Contrast

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Genesis 4.

Adam and Eve had two sons, named Cain and Abel; Cain was a tiller of the earth.

Abel, the younger son of Adam and Eve, was a keeper of sheep—the first shepherd.

Cain grew angry because his sacrifice was not accepted by God, like Abel's, so he killed Abel.

Sugar Substitute

It is easy to substitute honey for sugar in many recipes, as honey has practically the same sweetening power as sugar, measure for measure. Honey on cottage cheese, a dish centuries old, is being revived today.

How To Make a Pie—In Three Lessons

By Louise Bennett Weaver,
Wide World Food Editor

1.—The secret of perfect pie is in the crust. Sift together $2\frac{1}{2}$ cups flour and $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoons salt. Using two spatulas or knives, cut in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup lard, until particles are size of small pea. Add 6 tablespoons cold water a few drops at a time, working in lightly until mixture is moistened and in small lumps. A flaky pastry is one that has been handled as little as possible, mixed with a light, deft touch.

2.—Press dough into ball, working quickly. Cover board with wax paper. Divide pastry in half and roll to $\frac{1}{8}$ inch thickness. Roll lightly IN OUTWARD DIRECTION ONLY. Press pastry lightly to fit 9-inch pie plate and trim even with edge of plate. Fill with $2\frac{1}{2}$ cups sweetened fresh or quick-frozen peaches, plums, berries, or any other of the many luscious fresh fruits now plentiful in any market.

3.—Roll remaining half of pastry to $\frac{1}{8}$ inch thickness. Fold in half for easier handling and adjust over top of filling. Trim the upper crust exactly even with the pie plate, using a sharp knife. Then seal edges by "crimping" with finger or fork. Make three or four diagonal slits in center of crust, to allow steam from cooking fruit to escape. Bake in a hot oven (450 F) for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (375 F) and continue to cook for 15 to 20 minutes, until upper crust is evenly browned. Then prepare to accept the cheers of the family.

Easy Way To Work
In a Vegetable

Here is an easy way to work one green vegetable into the day's diet. To many it will be a novelty, as healthy as it is healthy.

Directions: Either spinach or kale may be used in a vegetable loaf. Prepare as for green vegetable.

Doctor Takes No Stand on Rocking Babies to Sleep

Mother Who Wants To Stop Habit Should Count Cost to Herself

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Answer: Perhaps most of the respectable grown-ups alive today then to weaken after she has cried fifteen pamphlets of mine on sleep, were rocked to sleep, occasionally and sobbed, is only to torture the eating, and the other common at least, when they were babies, child and yourself. Pay the price problems every parent has with Assuming this last statement to be done with it, if you wish baby and young child may be had been a fact, it is no argument for to succeed. The child may cry the by writing me at 235 East Forty-rocking babies to sleep now; neither whole night through, even a second fifth street, New York city, encloses it is a good reason why a mother might, but finally you will win if a self-addressed envelope with who has rocked her baby should you have the stuff in you. if you do not wish to do so always. The child has more regard for precedent than a judge.

To try out a plan of stopping, a folder which lists and describes the problem at all. The child may cry the by writing me at 235 East Forty-rocking babies to sleep now; neither whole night through, even a second fifth street, New York city, encloses it is a good reason why a mother might, but finally you will win if a self-addressed envelope with who has rocked her baby should you have the stuff in you. Unless the child tries to climb a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

It is your problem, Mother. If out of bed I can think of no occasion this unnecessary attention, I guess the child will cry when denied the ride the money invested in her education, activity and give your child a sign for spanking her. Naturally through college and then gets married, nobody else should worry whether comforts afforded by rocking. Let cation is wasted. What do you rock your child to sleep or not, it be her privilege to cry just as it thinks?

When you think the matter through is your privilege to cease to rock. A More often than not it was

CHAPTER THIRTY
DIAN LAUGHED when her aunt said she didn't like being forced on Jerome Carr. "Now you know how it feels," she said. "Turnabout is fair play."

"I don't like playing second fiddle, either."

"There!" said Dian, stepping back to look the older woman over. "You look simply stunning."

"Don't change the subject, Dian."

"Oh, you mean about Jerome. Well, it's not often an aunt and her nieces are rivals for the same man."

"I'm not a rival for Jerome, and you know it. I've been trying to get you to marry him for ages, and—"

"And now," Dian interrupted, "I'm going to try to get you to marry him. And don't look so cross! You know perfectly well, darling, that you've been dying for a chance to show off this frock. Honest, Aunt Martha, American Beauty is just your color—it makes your hair look marvelous!" She paused and sighed. "You're a darned handsome woman. I only hope I'm one half as attractive when I get to be your age."

"Humph!" Miss Martha said. "You always turn on the flattery, don't you, when you want your own way. Well, let me tell you, young lady, I'll go through this engagement with Jerome Carr, but that's all. From now on you take over. Understood?"

"Yes, Aunt Martha. Only suppose Jerome falls in love with you to-night."

"Of all the fool things to say! Why—"

"If he doesn't appreciate your charm, he's dumber than I think." Dian glanced at the time. "I must go get myself dolled up, now that I've got you looking like Park Avenue."

"The idea, refusing Jerome's invitation to help him entertain important guests—and going out with Claire and those two men who want to marry her!" Miss Martha was annoyed. "Sometimes I think you haven't got a brain in your head, Dian."

"That's where you're wrong, Aunt Martha," Dian said. "I have too many brains. That's why a girl like Claire gets all the nice men—and I face spinsterhood. Claire's heart rules, and never her head."

"Has she decided which man she wants?"

"No," said Dian. "Or so I gather. I haven't seen any of the trio since driving Bill out to the farm. But I hear Claire had them both over for tea."

"So that silly mother of hers could show off, I reckon."

"Perhaps."

"But I thought you said the four of you were to play around together."

"That's what I thought," said Dian. "But evidently Claire's changed her mind. I reckon my keeping Bill out at the farm so long riled her."

"And yet—in spite of Claire's fickleness and selfishness—you still going to her dinner!" said Miss Martha. "I should think you have more pride than that."

"It's too late to back out," said Dian. "Besides, I feel like dancing and having fun." She gave her aunt a quick kiss. "You like Bill Rollins very well, I said so yourself."

"Yes, what little I saw of him, he seemed a right nice young man—but don't forget he came down here to marry that nit-wit, Claire Lester."

"I can't forget that," said Dian. "But I might as well get a little fun out of him while I can. You know, gather rosy memories for my old age."

"Stop talking nonsense, and go get dressed!" said Miss Martha. "How are you going to the club?"

"Paul's calling for me in his car," Dian replied. "We're all going out together. Bill's car is still laid up for repair."

"I reckon I'll see you at the club," Miss Martha remarked. "The least you can do is have a dance or two with Jerome."

"He may not ask me."

"I'll see to that."

"Now, listen, Aunt Martha—no matchmaking, please."

"You forced me on him for the evening," Miss Martha retorted. "Turnabout's fair play. That's what you said a moment ago."

"All right, you win!"

A little later, from the window of her upstairs bedroom, Dian watched Jerome Carr assist her aunt into his bright and shining Packard. "They make a darned good-looking couple," she thought. And then she went on with her dressing.

The doorknob rang almost as soon as she had reached the lower hall. She caught up the light wrap she had flung to the hall chair, and then opened the door. Bill Rollins was standing upon the porch. He wore a dinner jacket, and was a little hurt over the fact that neither one of them had gotten in touch with her all of yesterday, nor seen anyone quite like him.

Answer: Cancer has no influence on any blood tests that are ordinarily given. There is no substance that occurs in the blood in the course of cancer which is diagnostic.

D. L. F.—What is the cause and remedy for car sickness and seasickness?

Answer: The cause of both is the motion of the train or ship, which moves the fluid in the semi-circular canals of the middle ear about. No remedy is very good, but any kind of a headache powder will help.

The more she thought, the louder she got.

"Snap out of it!" Dian said aloud—making a face at her reflection. Then she stepped back to eye herself more carefully. Not bad! White organdie, crisp and cool—with touches of lace here and there. Black velvet ribbons tied about her wrists and her throat. Very, very feminine. Ought to melt the hearts of men right and left. And the spray of cornflower at her shoulder. . . . "I'm no Scarlett O'Hara," Dian thought, "but I reckon I'll do." She gave her hair a final touch, tucked a piece of cornflower underneath the ribbon which bound the wheat-color sheen—and went downstairs.

Commando and Other War Specials Are Scheduled by Radio Network

Offerings Will Include Variety and Music Numbers

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, July 17.—The war-effort schedule of the networks is being augmented by three Saturday features.

There is the CBS Commandos series at 8:30 p.m., a fictional program based on the escapades of the British raiders of the French coast.

There are the MBS offerings—at 12 noon the first of a series of army-navy house parties, a general variety show; at 5 p.m. a Jimmy Dorsey orchestra hour in tribute to the navy and naval heroes.

A related program is that titled "Records for Fighting Men," for CBS at 8, the first of several programs on behalf of the campaign to collect old records for scrap so that new recordings can be made from them for army and other camps.

Discussion Periods

The enemy alien problem is to be subject for discussion of People's Platform on CBS at 7. The Ika Chase luncheon on NBC at 12:30 p.m. is to have Judge Ben Lindsey as guest. Horse racing will include CBS 4:30 and MBS 4:45 from the Empire City track and NBC at 6 from the Arlington track.

As a preview of the MBS fall series of operetta programs, America Loves a Melody at 9 will present Rudolph Frimis' "The Vagabond King." The program is to be designed

Stock Market Loses Stamina And Many Leaders Dip Sharply

Losses of Fractions to More Than a Point Recorded

By BERNARD S. O'HARA

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—Inflation or not inflation, the stock market lost its rising stamina today and leaders dipped fractions to more than a point.

In addition to the usual trimming of accounts for week-end protection, some selling was based on indications the administration would ask for stiffer corporation tax rates and possibly urge wage-price legislation to prevent the threat of soaring living costs. Many potential buyers also were restrained by persistent gloomy war news from Russia.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was off 4 of a point at 36.9, largest drop since June 22. Transfers totaled 282,770 compared with 265,390 the day before.

Stocks seemingly were depressed by belated implications of the pay boost granted "Little Steel" workers. Youngstown Sheet showed independent heftiness, falling 1 1/4 points in the wake of a fifty-cent dividend declaration against seventy-five cents paid in the two preceding quarters.

Prominent backsiders included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Anaconda, American Can, Westinghouse, duPont, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Santa Fe, Sears, Roebuck, International Harvester, Texas Co. and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Among better actors were White Rock and Oliver Farm which edged into new high ground for the year. Holding modest advances were N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Crane Co., Western Union, Postal Telegraph, Preferred, North American and Owens-Illinois.

In the Curo Tidol shipyards backed down four points on a few trades while Southern New England Telephone and Coats Patent Fire Arms gained more than three each, also on restricted turnovers. The aggregate here was 55,780 shares versus 43,125 Thursday.

The bond market again idled in a narrow range with a sizeable number of selected issues improving in contrast with small changes and a mixed trend for the market as a whole.

Trading contracted to $3,690,900 par value, against $4,404,400 on Thursday.

U. S. governments were quiet but steady.

Industries Building To Be Dedicated Oct. 16-17

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., July 17 (AP)—The $1,000,000 Mineral Industries Building recently completed on the West Virginia campus and occupied by the School of Mines, chemical engineering and geology departments and the state geological survey, will be dedicated October 16-17, it was announced today.

led with strength. Hogan and Demaret, moving up from the challengers, went unbeaten through two previous tests in the domestic series. Little, who teamed with Mangrum for the Inverness invitational title at Toledo, has a good partner in Cooper who won his match here two years ago.

Team Well Matched

Picard and Bird, runners-up at Toledo, apparently are well matched with Nelson and Dudley, the latter a last minute replacement for Sam Sneed who was unable to arrange leave from the Navy. In the singles there may be real lineup manipulations, depending, of course, on the relative status of the players in foursome play.

The third renewal of the series is expected to yield $25,000 for the Red Cross. More than $30,000 was raised when the coppers beat Sarazen's challengers in 1940 and lost to Bobby Jones' squad last year.

In conjunction with tomorrow's play, Fred Corcoran, P. G. A. tournament manager, said the Association's advisory committee would meet to plan a possible war relief golf tour by a squad of the nation's top pros in September.

News of Interest From Hyndman

HYNDMAN, July 17—Word has been received from David C. Van Voorhis, by his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. N. Van Voorhis, that he was promoted to the rank of corporal in Company "H," Sixth Regiment, Quartermaster's Corps, Camp Lee, Va., also that he was admitted to the Officer's Candidate School at Camp Lee. If he completes his training, he will receive the rank of second Lieutenant.

The annual Lybarger family reunion will be held this Sunday in the Lybarger Grove, Madley. In addition to those connected with the family, the general public is invited. A program of singing and speech-making will be offered, following the picnic dinner.

Pvt. John S. Albright and Charles T. Boden have arrived at the Air-Bases, Lincoln, Neb., from the Replacement Training Center, Miami Beach, Fla.

While at Lincoln, Carson, who is in a short time has made a place for himself among the top performers in Hollywood.

Most of the story is set in the vast Lockheed Aircraft Plant where people have come from all over the United States to help do their share.

Here Morgan meets an old friend of his, played by Jack Carson, and his wife, portrayed by Sheridan. Because Carson is cheated by a physics engineering school he has a falling out with both Ann and Dennis which culminates by Ann walking out on him, and getting a job at the plant.

Dennis, who needed no encouragement to make a play for Ann, now goes to it without pulling any punches. But it is no go. He realizes that her heart is still with Carson, who also finds employment at Lockheed.

It is only after Pearl Harbor that Dennis really awakens and shows his understanding by patching things up between Sheridan and Carson and joining the U. S. Air Force.

"Wings For The Eagle" was written by Byron Morgan and B. H. Orkow with additional dialogue by Richard Macaulay.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Shroyer, Buffalo Mills; Mr. and Mrs. John Shroyer and family, Hollidaysburg, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Manges, Central City, Pa., visited in the Stanley Shroyer home yesterday.

War Industries Takes Patrolmen

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 17 (UPI)—War industries took a fourth member from the Martinsburg police force today with the resignation of Traffic Patrolman Copeland A. Thompson.

Mr. Witherup, right, selected by a secret committee as representative Mrs. Miniver, is shown accepting from Mrs. Louise P. Coulehan, executive secretary of Cumberland chapter, American Red Cross, a dozen red roses presented in recognition of this city's volunteer war workers. Mrs. Witherup and her family will also be given complimentary tickets to the motion picture, "Mrs. Miniver," which opens Wednesday at the Maryland theater.

Under Mrs. Witherup's leadership, members of the motor corps, operated by the Red Cross but now working under direction of the office of civilian defense, were trained and authorized as motor corps drivers.

Stepping out of her role as "Guardian of the Red Cross" when the Civilian defense set up here was first inaugurated, Mrs. Witherup helped organize members of the control center into a smoothly functioning group.

Mrs. Witherup is a real Mrs. Miniver.

Ann Sheridan Is Star Of Film Drama

Planes, planes and still more planes is the war cry of America. Bombers, fighters, training planes keep rolling off the assembly lines in an unending stream. The heart-pounding drama in the lives of the men and women who keep 'em rolling is now told in Warner Bros.' "Wings For The Eagle," which is currently at the Strand theater. In the leading roles are Ann Sheridan, whose recent brilliant performance in "Kings Row" and "Juke Girl" won nation-wide praise, and Dennis Morgan, who in a short time has made a place for himself among the top performers in Hollywood.

The most of the story is set in the vast Lockheed Aircraft Plant where people have come from all over the United States to help do their share. Here Morgan meets an old friend of his, played by Jack Carson, and his wife, portrayed by Sheridan. Local Woman Is Honored for Work

Mrs. Witherup was the first choice of a secret committee asked to select four Cumberland women as representative Mrs. Miniver, the women who are doing volunteer war work on the home front.

In conjunction with an executive board, Mrs. Witherup is responsible for the policy and various services of the Red Cross in Allegany county. Although she is married and has four children, one of whom is employed in a local defense industry, Mrs. Witherup finds time to work at her desk in the Red Cross office in the federal building for at least six to eight hours daily and often on Sunday.

It is Mrs. Witherup who is re-

Brian Donlevy Goes Feminine in Film

Brian Donlevy, who always has been proud of his screen reputation as one of the roughest, toughest guys in Hollywood, recently was keeping appointments with a dress designer.

The screen's bad guy goes feminine for an important comedy sequence in Columbia's two-fisted "Two Yanks in Trinidad" in which he shares top honors with Pat O'Brien and Janet Blair at the Embassy theater.

"This business of being a female impersonator is bad enough," the actor said explosively, "but it's nothing to the torture of standing in front of a mirror while a creative artist sticks pins in flimsy material, more often than not ignoring the fact that you have skin."

Donlevy is so broad-shouldered that the wardrobe department at Columbia couldn't fit him, being forced to have a dress designed especially for the player.

To make matters worse, Pat O'Brien called him "Clothes-Horse Donlevy."

John Loder's Life Reflected in Film

If there is a title role in "Eagle Squadron," Walter Wanger's new Universal production which is now showing at the Liberty theater, it is played by John Loder.

The veteran British stage and screen player portrays the squadron leader of the Eagle Squadron, that famous young group of American fighter pilots who preceded their own country's entrance into the war by joining the Royal Air Force.

The Americans are normally commanded by British officers, and it is as one of these that Loder appears in the picture. In the cast with him are such well known players as Robert Stack, Diana Barrymore, Lydia Lilbrough have other principal roles.

Yankees Crush Cleveland Indians 8 to 1

Look Like World Champions Again Behind Chandler

Rizzuto Hits Homer in First Inning with Bases Full

NEW YORK July 17 (AP)—The New York Yankees, looking like World Champions again, crushed the Cleveland Indians today 8 to 1 with Spud Chandler pitching a six-hit ball and Phil Rizzuto and Red Rofe each contributing a home run and a triple to the Yanks' sixth straight triumph.

To all intents and purposes the game was decided in the first inning when Rizzuto smashed his homer off Lefty Al Smith with the bases loaded. It was his second of the season.

In the second inning Rofe drove in a run with a triple and in the fourth he collected his third home run in five days, with one on.

The Yankees supported Chandler with four double plays, bringing their total to 11 for 86 games. Joe DiMaggio extended his hitting streak to 14 games with a single off Joe Hoving in the seventh. And there were a couple of red hot arguments between players and umpires.

One came in the Indians' half of the second inning when Ray Mack hit a liner to Phil Rizzuto with Les Fleming on second base. Rizzuto trapped the ball and started a rundown of Fleming between second and third. After this was completed the umpire ruled it had been an infield fly, making Mack automatically out and giving the Yanks one of their double plays in spite of a storm of protests by Cleveland players.

Then in the fifth inning Roy Weatherly came to the plate to play alongside of Frisch. "Don't let me tell you the old master can't still cover plenty of ground. He was all over that bench, going to his right one minute and way the hell to his left the next. Magnificent flow of language, too.

This tribute to Mr. Frisch, while undoubtedly deserved, must not be permitted to overshadow the achievement of Mr. Bordagray. Back in the days of Fulton, they laughed at dreamers who said a Brooklyn outfields might some day play the bench in Pittsburgh.

The milestone was attained through the unwitting co-operation of Mr. Frisch himself. Surveying the terrain before a game between the Pirates and Dodgers, the Pittsburgh manager suddenly began to count on his fingers. Reaching the count of twenty-six, he yelled to inform Mr. Durocher that there were too many Brooklyn players in uniform—over the legal limit of twenty-five. Mr. Durocher ignored him. Mr. Frisch yelled again, and continued to yell till Mr. Durocher was seized with earache; a splendid example of man bites dog.

"What can I do to silence that boor?" muttered Mr. Durocher, who found himself in the embarrassing position of having an extra player—One Max Macon, pitcher—on his bench that day.

Juveniles Ready for $60,000 Race Today

Sixteen Named
For Arlington
Futurity Event

Warren Wright Pins
Hopes on Undefeated
Careless in Classic

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, July 17. (P)—There may be another potential Whirl-away running in the $64,400 Arlington Futurity tomorrow, but regardless of that, sixteen of the nation's swiftest two-year-olds will go galoping for the winner's share of approximately $50,000.

Warren Wright of Chicago, owner of Whirlaway, will pin his hopes on his undefeated Careless, a son of Ladysman which won the Arlington Futurity in 1932 and then sent another of his sons, Swain, to triumph in the same race two years ago. Careless has started only once, but displayed a marvelous burst of speed in both victories.

Two other undefeated juveniles—
John Hay Whitney's Picket, and the Dixiana Stable's Amber Light—were named, along with Occupation, the entry of John Marsh of Chicago. Occupation is one of the most consistent two-year-olds to perform around Chicago this season. He won his debut at Lincoln Fields and has not been worse than second since.

Outsiders considered to have a chance include Corona, Corona, entry of W. E. Boeing, Seattle;
Wash., Airplane Builder; Christian Stable's Quillon, Gustave Ring's
Ringmenow, A. C. Ernest's Alquest, Valmar Farm's The Native, Woolford Farm's Adulator and Nod, and a trio consisting of All Hoss, Big Mo and Bull's Eye, entered by Hal
Price, Headley, Lexington, Ky.,
Lufkin.

Headley sent four starters out in an attempt to win the Arlington Classic Stakes last Saturday and on second and fourth money totalling $8,000, a profit of $6,000 over the $2,000 it cost to start the quartet.

A year ago Warren Wright's farm sired a one-two-three grand slam with Sun Again, Some Chance and Washbone finishing in that order.

The longest priced winner of the Futurity was Grand Slam in 1934 at $55.00 for $2,000, and the shortest price was the Milky Way Farm's entry in 1937 at odds of twenty cents to $1. Six favorites have won the event, a dash of six furlongs, while the same number of post-ume favorites were raced into defeat.

in a single with one man scoring.

Roby scattered the three hits made off his delivery and the one on base he issued caused no damage. He also stole the only base during the game. Kemp, Wilkinsen and Bowman secured the only hits for the Y team.

A TIME TO SHOUT

JUST AS there are times when you should keep your mouth shut, so there are also times to shout. One of these arrives after you have passed on your first chance to bid, with a hand right on the borderline, and your partner then makes an opening bid of a suit with which you have a good fit. It is up to you to tell him so, with some kind of a jump, on your very next turn, if you feel that there is surely a game in the hand. Otherwise, he may pass the hand out at less than a game contract.

In a rubber game, the bidding was exactly as shown in Table 1 above. Table 2 shows how it should have been. With that kind of action by East, after hearing his partner's opener, there is no chance of the hand being dropped below game. In addition, it makes certain that East gets an opportunity to show his major suit of hearts is at least five cards in length, so that if West has three the hand can be played in that suit.

When East bid only 1-Heart as first response to the opener, and later jumped from West's 2-Clubs to 3-Diamonds, West reckoned that East would have forced on the first round if his strength had been in primary honors, and that therefore he probably held something like five diamonds, about five hearts to the K-Q, perhaps a couple of indifferent spades and maybe the club Q plus another. If so, game was not in the deal.

As it turned out, the declarer made 5-Diamonds, losing only one trick in each red suit.

Your Week-End Lesson

What is the most important reason a declarer can have for not taking out the opponents' trumps at once, aside from that of desiring to use the trumps of his own hand or dummy for early ruffing? Can you give an example illustrating the principle involved?

Asphalt Problem May Delay Airport Black-Topping Job

450 of 4,300 Feet No. 1 Runway Paved; Priorities Are Handicaps

Runway No. 1 at the Cumberland Municipal Airport near Wiley Ford, W. Va., will be completed within the next month, provided enough asphalt can be obtained for the project, Stanley Hillcock, WPA superintendent, announced yesterday.

Approximately 450 feet of the 4,300 feet runway, which 150 feet wide, had been black-topped by the Cumberland Contracting Company at the close of work yesterday afternoon, but officials of the local contracting firm are running into difficulty in obtaining asphalt to complete the job, it was revealed.

Submarines and Priorities

It was explained that natural asphalt is shipped to this country from Yucatan and Trinidad in tankers while another grade of asphalt comes from oil wells in the middle west. Recently two tankers carrying asphalt assigned for the airport were sunk by Axis submarines off Norfolk, Va., on the same day. It was customary to send on the average of six tankers of asphalt a day to the United States but the last tanker to dock at an east coast port was in March.

Another handicap faced by the local contractor is the fact that government projects with a higher rating than the local airport get the first call on all asphalt which arrives either by tanker or railroad. Thus a project with a "Triple 'A'" rating would be given the preference over the airport which has an 'A-4' priority rating.

Hillcock said that planes will be permitted to land on the No. 1 runway as soon as the blacktopping job is completed.

Work Started Monday

The Cumberland Contracting Company started the black-topping job Monday and fifteen men are employed on the project. The local firm was awarded a $50,000 contract to put down 6,800 tons of black-top on the 4,300 feet strip.

Record Set In Tax Collections For Allegany County

June Returns Amount to Seventy Per Cent of Total Annual Levy

An all-time record for county tax collections has been established in the office of Alibar C. Thompson, county tax collector, according to Walter A. Johnston, county auditor.

Collections for the month of June amounted to seventy per cent of the total levy or $308,040. The total levy for the fiscal year is $1,297,200.

This is the largest amount ever collected in a single month, and officials expressed the view that it indicates two things. First, most people have a little more money than normally, and second, they paid their taxes during June to take advantage of the discount offered. A five per cent discount date expired June 30.

Tax collections this month are reported good, considering the small comparative amount outstanding. Payment this month nets the taxpayer a four per cent discount.

Camp Meetings Will Be Conducted By the Rev. E. B. Lewis

A series of camp meetings, to be sponsored by the Davis Memorial church, the Rev. E. B. Lewis, pastor, will be inaugurated Sunday, July 26, at a new camp grove recently purchased by the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis said every effort will be made to duplicate the old-time revival meeting. A large tent will be pitched and the floor will be covered with sawdust to bring back memories of the "old sawdust trail." Arrangements are being made to have an orchestra and of special interest will be the ring meetings which will precede each service, the pastor stated.

During the revival a vacation Bible school will be held each morning from 9 until 12 o'clock for the children of the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis said the revival will follow a series of sermons concerning the "Days Ahead" which he has been conducting for the past six weeks. The last in the series will be presented Sunday night in the church when he speaks on "God's Terms."

Police Holding Two AWOL Soldiers For Army Officials

Two AWOL soldiers are held in the city jail here for United States Army officials.

One of them, Pvt. Paul Brant, this city, is on what city police termed his "umteenth" AWOL spree. The other soldier is William M. Lackenby of Hyndman, Pa. Both are stationed with Co. G, One Hundred Fifteenth Infantry.

Other Local News On Pages 6 and 12

Friday, July 17, 1942.

To our men in the armed forces everywhere:

Good old summer time is really here at last; it was ninety-seven earlier in the week and this afternoon seems to be the hottest day yet, but no doubt many of you are in climates much hotter than it is here. Swimming pools, golf courses, tennis courts, rivers and picnic grounds are being used by Cumberlanders to "try and keep cool."

Well the three big events of the week are now history . . . A crowd estimated at 5,000 greeted Loretta Young here Wednesday afternoon at a public war bond rally in which $107,875 worth of bonds and stamps were sold . . . The blackout from dusk to dawn seems to have been successful, with a thirty minute total blackout thrown in for good measure . . . The third event of the week was the Vernon Gray murder trial which ended yesterday with his conviction by a jury of manslaughter, which carries a sentence of from nothing to ten years in prison. Sentence will be passed next Thursday afternoon.

Many of you fellows will remember Jim Craig, reporter on the Cumberland News, before he entered military service in April, 1941. The News had a letter from Jim this week from Australia where he has been with American forces now for several months. He is getting along fine and says the Americans and Australians are getting along nicely together.

Officer Howard Kennerd of the city police force has resigned to accept a position as guard at the Celanese plant . . . Allegany county's second oldest public school, Maryland avenue, will pass out of existence with the opening of the 1942-43 school term in September, Charles L. Kopp, superintendent announced yesterday . . .

The building was first opened Aug. 1, 1874 . . . Kopp explained that better opportunities will be offered students who will attend school in more modern buildings.

The Rev. Father Boniface Weckman, pastor of St. Peter and Paul Catholic church here, has been transferred to the pastorate of the Sacred Heart church in Charleston, W. Va. . . . He will be succeeded by the Rev. Father Ireneaus, a native of Sheboygan, Wis., and now pastor of St. Joseph's church at Hayes, Kan. . . . Cash awards aggregating $7,500 will be offered exhibitors at the annual Cumberland fair, the week of Aug. 10-15. Harry A. Manley, president and general manager announced yesterday . . . Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, former city health officer, now serving in the medical unit of the armed forces of the United States "somewhere in England," writes friends that he expects to go to London soon for conference relative to construction and improvement plans of hospitals.

The fair association has announced it will increase purses for races at Fairgate Aug. 4-8 and 11-15 $4,000 this year . . . There will be seven running races and one steeplechase daily. . . . Attorney General William C. Walsh has announced his candidacy for re-election as attorney general of Maryland . . . Fort Cumberland Post, the American Legion Tuesday night elected George Ray Lippold, post commander in the annual contest . . . Lippold defeated Charles G. Smith in an unusual contest. . . . Each received the same number of votes but under a provision of the Legion by-laws covering deadlocks the candidates shall be considered in alphabetical order. Lippold was declared the winner.

Speaking of candidates Col. Nelson W. Russler, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination to the Board of Allegany County Commissioners. . . . One of the two Maryland women named second lieutenants in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps is a former Cumberland resident. . . . She is Mrs. Evelyn Driscoll Rothrock, of Baltimore, a daughter of Mrs. J. W. Driscoll and a sister of Mrs. Rhea Ringler, Fred and Arlington Driscoll of this city. . . . She visited here earlier in the week prior to entering officers training school.

Well fellows the heat says "time to quit" so, so long until next week.

Negro Arrested During Blackout Being Held For Investigation

Elisha Palmore, negro, is being held in the F. H. A. but the important priorities order required for new building is now assured, and an early start on needed houses is expected. There are certain limitations on the type and cost of houses to be built, but all needed materials will now be readily available.

Working on the project, Mr. Smith said today, have been Attorney General William C. Walsh, Owen E. Hitchins, and Arthur Wehr, representing the Chamber, and Robert W. Young, president, and D. Clifford Goodfellow, secretary, of the Real Estate Board.

Nazelrod Rites Are Held Here

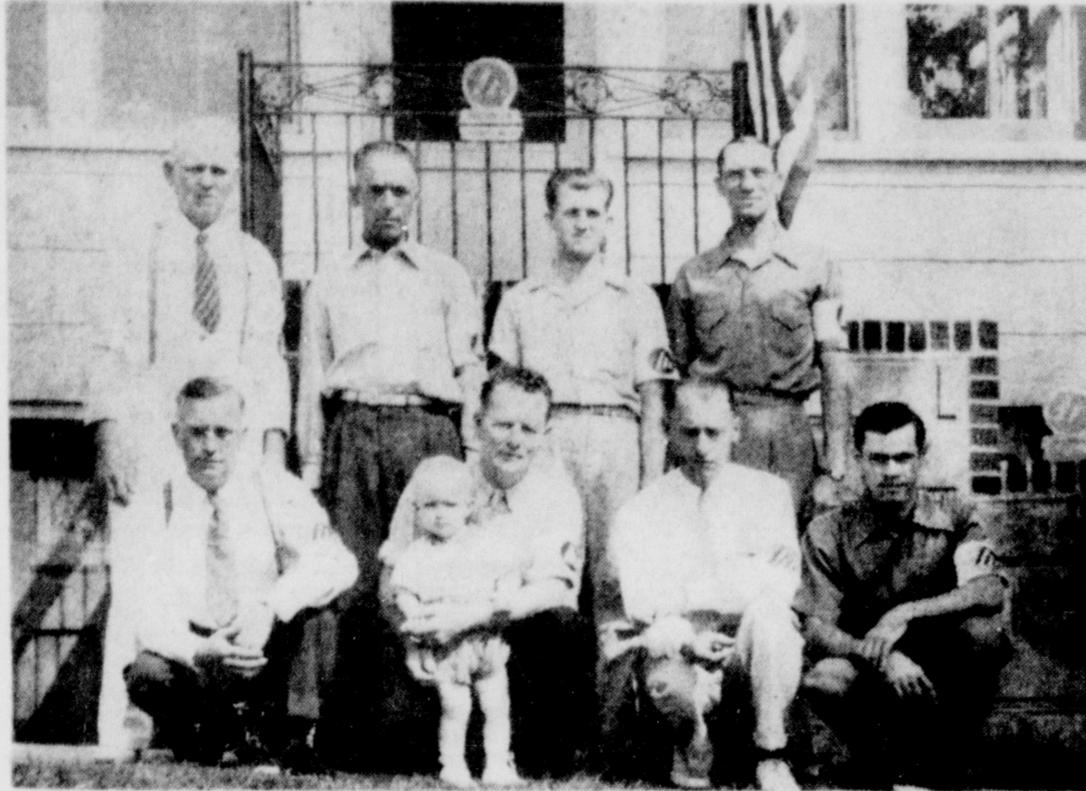

Final rites were held yesterday afternoon at Stein's Chapel for Walter R. Nazelrod, 48, of Braddock Road, who died late Monday night, after a prolonged illness. The Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducted the service. Burial was in the family cemetery, Braddock road.

The pallbearers were J. L. Aaron, W. E. Miller, D. J. Siller, E. A. Powell, Cumberland, and Lawrence A. Hewitt, clerk.

Election Board Will Hold Session Sunday

A meeting of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the board office in the courthouse.

The board comprises James E. Kenny, Westerman, chairman, Stanley Hamilton and Harold A. Powell, Cumberland, and Lawrence A. Hewitt, clerk.

WARDENS RECEIVE CARDS—Air Raid Wardens of Zone No. 2 Frostburg, including the group shown above were presented their official identification cards, this week, by the Frostburg Control Center.

These are the first cards issued from the Frostburg center, as a reward to the men who completed the necessary hours of study. The men are also wearing official arm bands, which were used in Frostburg for the first time during the blackout Wednesday night. The emblem shown in the background is one of the "home markers" which Zone No. 2 wardens have on display in front of their homes, indicating their place of residence. The emblem bears the name of the warden and the area over which he has control. Those in the picture, front row, (left to right) are, Cecil Croft, Zone Warden Walter Mackay, holding Walter, Jr.; Clarence Repphan and Lester Miller. Back row, (left to right) John Edmund Jr., Cecil Randolph, Arthur Beal and Charles Wolf.

Democrats Plan To Line Up Full County Ticket

Meet Tomorrow at Windsor Hotel; New Treasurer Will Be Elected

Local Woman Dies Of Heart Attack May Be Used Now; No. 6 Due July 26

Miss Martha Ann Rompf, 70, is found dead in bed by Sister

Miss Martha Ann Rompf, 70, was found dead in bed at 9:30 a. m. yesterday at her home, 415 North Mechanic street. Dr. Linne H. Corson, deputy county medical examiner, said she died in her sleep from a heart attack and had been dead several hours before a sister found her.

Miss Rompf had not been ill, but was heard moving about in her room during the night and her sister assumed she was restless before quitting.

Miss Rompf lived with her sister, Miss Anna Martha Rompf, and a nephew, Frank Rudolph. She is also survived by a brother, John Rompf, this city. The body was taken to the Woldorf funeral home.

Few Democrats File

The state central committee feels that this is an opportune time to elect a full Democratic ticket in Allegany county and we are hopeful that all loyal members of the party will be present at the Sunday powwow," Griffin said.

Action to "stir up members of the party in Allegany county" is being taken in view of the fact that less than a half dozen Democrats have filed so far to have their names placed on the ballot for the primary and the deadline for filing with the election board is less than one week off — Friday, July 24.

Mullaney Resigns

Electing a successor to Matthew J. "Jerry" Mullaney, who has resigned as treasurer of the committee, will also be a matter of business at tomorrow's session. Mullaney turned in his resignation because of pressure of business and asked that it be accepted. He is an attorney for the local office of the OPA and has other legal matters to transact in Baltimore.

Members of the county committee in addition to Chairman Griffin are Bernard Hughes, Frostburg; Thomas C. Stakem, Midland, and Charles F. Heller, Patrik J. "Derry" Stakem and John P. Schellhaus, Cumberland.

PRIORITIES GRANTED FOR 65 NEW HOMES IN CUMBERLAND

Selections by the Melody Girls Accordion Trio, comprising Roseline Dunlap, Doris Jean Poorbaugh and Betty Thompson, will be an added feature on the Community Songfest program, sponsored by the City of Cumberland, and scheduled tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock in the amphitheater of Constitution park.

A Florian Wilson, well known song leader, who will direct the program, the first public affair of its kind for Cumberland, announced last evening that the program will be opened with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by James Stevenson, on the Hammond organ.

Other numbers on the program include:

"The Stars and Stripes Forever," organ solo, by James Stevenson; "Three Little Sisters," vocal solo by Miss Ruth Lee Richards; musical selections, by Hillbilly Mary and Brothers, a unit of the "Salt and Peanuts" company; group singing, by A. James Stevenson will furnish the organ accompaniments for group singing.

MOOSE BAND CONCERT WILL BE HELD ON LODGE'S LAWN

The band concert Sunday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock by the Moose Lodge organization will feature martial airs and several other favorites will be interspersed. The program will be held on the Moose lawn.

The concert will open with the "Moose March" and will be followed by "Anchors Aweigh," "Old Timer's Waltz," "Conquerors March," "Old Comrades March," "Evening Shadows," "Down South," "Leatherneck's March."

Seats will be arranged on the Moose home lawn and the public is invited to attend.

Insists He Wants To Join

M meanwhile, Moreland insisted he still desired to enter the army, although Mr. Flynn stated that not long ago, the youth sat in his office and declared: "I am not going into the army and I want to take the consequences."

At one of the early hearings, Judge Coleman expressed dissatisfaction at the apparent inability of physicians to agree on whether or not Moreland is physically defective.

The Judge stated he felt that although Moreland had experienced a change of heart, the defendant should be punished if he is not accepted in the army.

Mercury Soars To 101 Degrees For 1942 High

Temperature Reaches Century Mark for First Time This Season

Whew, ain't it hot! That expression was general in Cumberland yesterday when Old Sol beamed his brightest of the year and sent the mercury soaring to 101 degrees in the official thermometer of the city health department atop city hall.

It marked the first time this year that the temperature reached the century mark, the previous high having been ninety-eight degrees on Monday, July 13.

The 101-degree temperature was recorded at 6 p. m. At 4 p. m., the maximum was 100 $\frac{1}{2}$ degrees.

Records at city hall showed that the temperature moved into the century class three times last year with 103 on July 1 as the highest of the season. On July 27, 1941, the mercury jumped to 101 and on the following day fell off one degree to an even 100.

Four times the temperature recorded 100 degrees or better in 1940 during the month of July with 101 $\frac{1}{2}$ degrees as tops.

At no time during the summer of 1938 did the mercury attain the century mark and the only time it reached that point in 1939 was on July 16.

Draft Violator Gets 4 Months In Reformatory

William Moreland Convicted of Attempting To Eade Draft Act

William W. Moreland, Jr., of W. W. Moreland, Jr., of 19 Wempe drive, was sentenced to four months in a federal reformatory yesterday by Federal Judge William C. Coleman on charges of violating draft regulations.

Moreland is a registrant of Local Board No. 1 and was employed at the Celanese plant. Judge Coleman settled the complicated case yesterday which he termed "a rather anomalous situation." He said army and draft officials could find a proper place in the service for Moreland at the end of his term.

Moreland was arrested in June when he failed to report for induction into the army. He allegedly sought to evade the draft by various claims for exemption and was finally indicted by the federal grand jury.

At various times since the operation of selective service, Moreland, it is alleged, has claimed exemption as a conscientious objector, as an inventor and because of alleged weak eyes, a bad heart and tuberculosis.

Finally, he was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of failing to report for induction after his draft board, and doctors in Cumberland reported that he was physically and mentally fit for armed service and his claim as a conscientious objector was studied and denied.

Agreed To Enlist

Moreland was arraigned last Monday in Baltimore before Federal Judge William C. Coleman and after consultation with his attorney, he agreed to enlist in the army. Consequently, the case was postponed pending the outcome of the enlistment efforts.

Tuesday morning, Moreland again was held before Judge Coleman, but army doctors reported that the defendant suffers from a defective ear and could not be accepted for enlistment. Moreland had never claimed exemption because of that ear.

But draft authorities interceded at this point and suggested that Moreland might be accepted in the draft for limited military service in spite of the alleged defective ear. So once again the case was postponed.

Thursday morning, the Cumberland youth appeared before the court again. This time the judge was informed that five psychiatrists had examined the youth and had discovered that Moreland's mental attitude was such that he should not be inducted into the service in any capacity.

Bernard J. Flynn, United States Attorney for Maryland, commented that the case had reached the point where it was "now bordering on the ridiculous." In so many words, he stated he frankly didn't know what to do next.
